Dear Rhonda

On behalf of the Committee of the Society of Editors (Western Australia), I wish to thank you for your presentation on "Increasing your efficiency in Word" at our Winter Seminar on Saturday 22 August 2015.

Some of the comments from our feedback form show how well received your presentation was by members and guests:

- 'Excellent content and presenter. Only criticism is I wanted more!'
- 'Great to get more skills.'
- 'Most useful for my day-to-day work. Great approach and generosity in sharing her knowledge.'
- 'Could almost do a whole day workshop just on this. Hold it in a room where there are training computers so everyone can try it out.'
- 'Would have liked more time on this topic.'
- 'I'll definitely use some of these tips.'
- 'Great. So much more to learn – more please!'
- 'Most enlightening and will be very useful.'

Mostly attendees used the numbering system to show what they thought of the 'Expertise of the speaker'. Without exception, all 21 responses to yours were 5s out of 5. And on top of that, you posted your notes straight away for all to follow up. I'm sure they will be in huge demand.

As you can see, our members were bowled over and expanded their understanding of Word in many ways. Thank you for sharing your knowledge with us once again. You're a total winner!

Kind regards

Kerry Coyle
